

Edwards's Botanical Register

 No copyright (public domain)

Initially published as Botanical Register from 1815 to 1828 (vol. 1 to 14), it became Edwards's Botanical register in 1829 (vol. 15). Publication stopped in 1847 (vol. 33). The very nice plates that illustrate cacti and succulents of both series are given here as a single interpreted file.

This series was created by Sydenham Edwards after a dispute with the editorial board of the \(Curtis's\) Botanical Magazine. This explains why Edwards's register looks like a clone of Curtis's Magazine.

- The file is made from the material proposed by the Biodiversity Heritage Library \(BHL\).
- You may download the original pages as jpeg files (text and plates) from the BHL site. Individual volumes are also available as pdf files that contains the jpeg images. ¹⁾

- Read online in the reading room
- Download: Interpreted file: Edwards_BotReg.pdf (16.4MB; 2008-11-26)

- Genus and species must be considered in the historical context (mainly 19th century).

You will find there for free other old documents concerning plants.
